Call for Workshop & Presentation Proposals

Whether one-room, two-rooms, three-rooms or four, sided with clapboard, brick, log or stone, the country school provided a sturdy frame for a basic education. Inside youthful teachers and their scholars engaged in a valued learning opportunity. Join the Country School Association of America in preserving the country school experience for future generations.

You are invited to submit proposals which engage our audience in Celebrating Country Schools:

- Slates* – writing, penmanship, best practices, facts
- Socials* – fund raising, building projects, holidays, community events
- Salutes* – patriotism, songs & poems, accomplishments, year-end programs
- Scholars* – former students and teachers, curriculum, programming, research

Conference proposals relating to all topics involving country school preservation, history and re-enactment are now being accepted by the CSAA for the 2015 Conference being held in Saratoga Springs, New York. The above topics are listed to spark your creativity.

Proposals can take the form of traditional presentations or workshops, panel discussions, photographic presentations, research papers, artistic/antique displays, re-enactments or dramatic programs, poster sessions or displays, as well as video and internet presentations.

Presentations/workshops should be 20-45 minutes, will be grouped according to topic and length, and will be scheduled by CSAA staff. All presenters are expected to register for the annual conference (at least for the day on which they are presenting) and do not receive an honorarium or travel reimbursement from CSAA.
